

Co-op Housing Federation of BC Education Conferences

Spring and Fall – Westin Wall Centre, Richmond

CALL FOR WORKSHOP PROPOSALS

The Co-operative Housing Federation of BC (CHF BC) is a co-operative membership association made up of housing co-ops and supporting organizations in British Columbia. Our mission is to unite, represent and serve our members in a thriving co-operative housing movement. There are more than 260 non-profit housing co-ops in BC, with over 15,000 households. Most of these housing co-ops are members of our association.

The purpose of our education program is to support these members in the achievement of the highest standards of sound management, good governance and principled leadership within healthy co-op communities. Our bi-annual (spring and fall) education conferences contribute to this with a day of workshops and networking to challenge and inspire participants who either live in, or provide services to, housing co-ops.

You can read more about our education program here, and view our education video here.

In order to expose our membership to emerging issues and new ideas, and to develop new initiatives, we are reaching out to the wider housing, social and non-profit community sector with an invitation to submit a workshop proposal to be part of one of our education conferences.

We are looking for workshops that:

- Support sound management, good governance and principled leadership within healthy co-op communities
- Are relevant to the housing co-op sector
- Offer innovative ideas
- Include strategies to help participants share their learning on their return to their communities
- Are designed for an adult audience and allow for participant interaction and questions
- Run for the entire time block but not run over time
- Are suited for a minimum of ten, and a maximum of forty participants

Workshops should not:

- Sell products or services

Remuneration

- $150 - $570 (depending on number of facilitators and length of the workshop)
- Includes lunch

Note that transportation and any accommodation required are the sole responsibility of the workshop facilitator.
